Spring 2026 Newsletter

I'm excited to announce that our first annual creative writing camp will be June 1-5. Created for rising 1st through 6th graders, the camp is designed to help young writers hone their written and oral communication skills and meet new friends. Click the QR code below to learn more and to register your young writer. Thank you for allowing us to help mold the next generation of storytellers.

Sincerely,

Traci

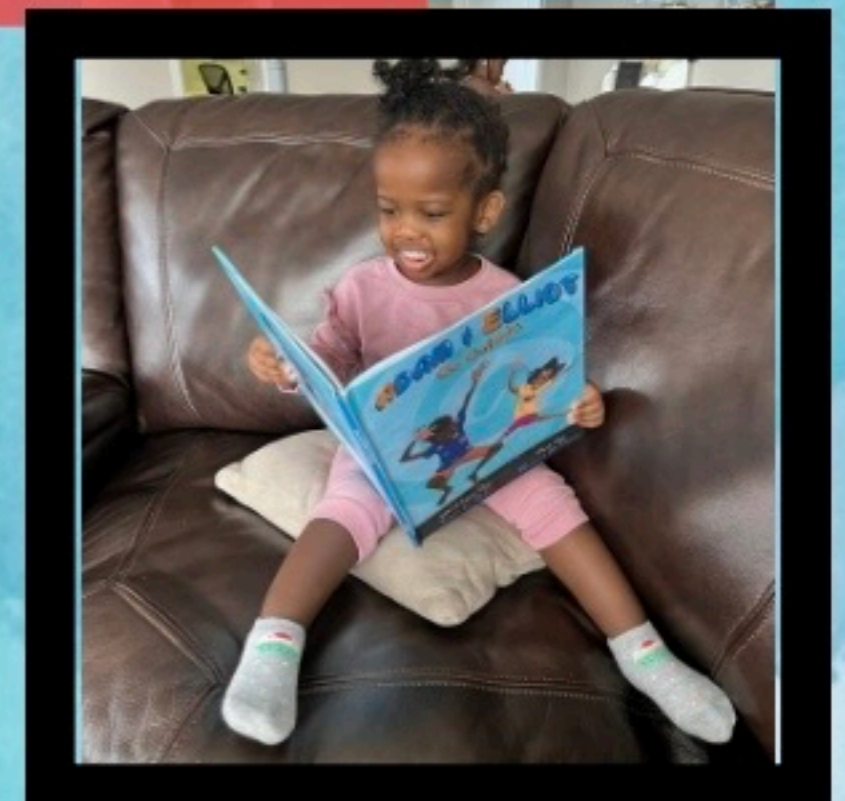

Calling all teachers, librarians and school administrators:

One of our goals is to have mini writing workshops in elementary schools to ignite a love of books, reading and creativity.

Spring Break Staycation Ideas

No big trip or plans for Spring Break? No problem. A cost effective and fun way for EVERYONE to enjoy the week is for each person to pick one fun activity. Tennis or pickle ball, a hike, an outing to a local attraction, movie or game night, or a simple gathering with friends are some of our favorites. You'll quickly remember that it's not the activity, but the togetherness and bonds that matter most.
